

REMARKS

Reconsideration is respectfully requested. The claims of the application have been amended, and also two additional claims are submitted, emphasizes the relationship between the cable lock body and the housing to which the cable lock body is secured. It is the cable lock body that is secured to the housing. Apparently, the examiner understood the original claims to recite only that the cable lock, that is, body and cable, were secured to each other within the housing. The distinction drawn by the present claim is that the cable lock body that is secured to the housing. No such relationship is contemplated in the prior art. In each reference, the lock body is not in any way secured to the element deemed to be the housing.

The claims, as amended, should be allowed.

Any required fees may be charged to Deposit Account No. 10-0460.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert V. Jambor, Reg. No. 23,080
